

Lower costs and increase peace of mind with the industry's longest warranty

Our Unparalleled Warranty Underpins IDIS Signature Quality and Reliability

The IDIS Ultimate Warranty

In a landscape with average industry warranties ranging from three to five years, IDIS's new Ultimate Warranty extends the company's standard warranty for recorders to five years, with the added benefit of two additional years for registered recorders. This brings the warranty for IDIS's H.265 network video recorders (NVRs) and multi-format HD-TVI IDIS DirectCX TVRs to an industry leading seven years. (IDIS IP cameras eligible for the two-year extension will also benefit from extended warranties of five years.)

The IDIS Ultimate Warranty gives IDIS integrators and installers a competitive advantage and delivers increased peace of mind and lower cost of ownership to end users. A recent industry survey by IFSEC Global showed most organizations look to upgrade surveillance systems five to seven years after installation. With the IDIS Ultimate Warranty, end users can be confident that their IDIS solution will be supported for its entire life cycle, a demonstration of IDIS's confidence in its industry-leading quality and reliability. Never again will end users be forced to purchase additional warranties long before the end of their surveillance solution's lifecycle.
